Black Flies/Buffalo Gnats
6th Grade Summer School Project
By Nadine Horton

On Friday June 18, 2004 County Commissioner Marc Shigeta visited the sixth grade summer school class in New Plymouth, sharing with them information about the black fly infestation. Students were able to express concerns and ask questions, while Marc Shigeta was able to put to rest a few rumors.

The class learned there are 400 different species of the black fly. Fish & Game did not introduce these flies to feed the fish. The flies have been native to this area since 1930. These flies have a life cycle of 14 days, and it is believed that they are currently on their sixth hatch this season. They breed and hatch in swift moving water, primarily in the Snake River, because the water temperature is warmer. While the bulk of the flies seem to be in Malheur County, the problem stretches clear to Canyon County. Shigeta suggested that perhaps a change in agriculture and the types of chemicals used has brought on such a large infestation.

There are several options on how to get rid of the flies, but some have negative side effects. Since there are over 400 species, we have to determine which species we are dealing with. There are currently entomologists studying the flies and their habits. While spraying for the flies is an option, Shigeta suggested it was not the best because it would kill other animals in the process. BTI seems to be the best option right now, an organic chemical that is environmentally safe. BTI would be placed in the river and the flies eat it, killing them before they ever hatch. The only down side, Shigeta said, was that it would not take care of the mosquitoes since they breed in still bodies of water. The estimated cost of treating with BTI is $1000/ mile. There was discussion of developing an abatement district, but no decision was made.

The final word is that nothing much can be done about the problem until next year. Shigeta was able to put to rest a few rumors.

In the end, the county commissioners have only received five (5) formal complaints. Research is being done so that hopefully the county will be more proactive next year and the infestation will be under control. Shigeta said the best action citizens can take is to let the county commissioners know where and when the flies are the worst so they can do something to remedy the situation.

This summer our reading program is Discovering Trails at the Library in honor of the Lewis and Clark celebration. On May 14, 1804, Capt. Meriwether Lewis and Lt. William Clark, charged by President Thomas Jefferson with finding a route to the Pacific Ocean, embarked from Camp Dubois, Ill., on the east bank of the Mississippi River, upstream from St. Louis. A 33-member group skilled in botany, zoology and outdoor survival accompanied them. The A Corps of Discovery arrived at Oregon’s Pacific coast in November of 1805 and returned to St. Louis on Sept. 23, 1806.

It took Lewis and Clark over two years to conduct their travels. As we travel through time this summer I will be conducting a survey of comparisons with Lewis and Clark. The first question is how do you think Lewis and Clark spent their time? And then how do you spend your time?

I am looking forward to this journey through summertime with you. Be sure to drop off your written thoughts to the Library located in City Hall or email your thoughts to nplfmt.com. (you need not sign your name; some of the results may be posted)

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Idaho Congressmen C.L. "Butch" Otter and Mike Simpson joined their House colleagues on Tuesday in launching a two-day push for a package of energy legislation to make America more self-sufficient and secure.

For the fourth time since President Bush took office in 2001, the House approved a strong, comprehensive national policy that will create jobs, stimulate the economy and diversify the energy supply. Otter and Simpson called on the Senate to put aside partisanship and join the effort to drive down gas prices and reduce America's dangerous dependence on foreign oil.

"We have enormous reserves of oil and gas right here at home, and we have the technology to extract them safely and responsibly while putting more Americans to work. We also have the capability of developing alternative and renewable energy resources to help make our country and our economy truly independent. In Idaho, we could be designing a process that will increase our energy independence and put our country on a solid path to a stable supply of homegrown energy. By focusing on sources such as hydropower, renewable and alternative energy, untapped domestic oil and natural gas deposits, and the long-term promise of emissions-free nuclear energy, we can begin moving toward a stable energy supply and a stable economy."

The Energy Policy Act is exactly the same as the comprehensive energy legislation that passed the House in November 2003 by a vote of 246-180, only to be stalled by Senate Democrats. It will create approximately 830,000 jobs by:

- Enabling construction of a natural gas pipeline from the Alaskan North Slope to the lower 48 states that will create 600,000 jobs through improved access to natural gas and will promote competition in the exploration, development and production of natural gas.

- Encouraging construction of new nuclear reactors that will increase America's energy independence while creating thousands of jobs. Building a nuclear reactor creates between 2,000 and 3,000 jobs, while running one creates roughly 1,500 new highly trained, well-paid trade or professional jobs.

- Investing in clean coal technology that creates 62,000 jobs. Setting a renewable fuel standard that will create more than 214,000 new jobs while expanding household income by an additional $51.7 billion over the next decade (Source: Renewable Fuel Association).

Increasing our investment in solar energy to create 20,000 new jobs in the industry by 2010 (Source: Solar Energy Institute Association).

The Renewable Energy Project Siting Improvement Act encourages development of such power supply alternatives as wind, solar, geothermal and biomass by streamlining provisions of the environmental review process on federal lands without weakening environmental protections.

Streamlining the National Environmental Policy Act process does not affect the authority of federal agencies to disapprove projects that hurt the environment or are out of compliance with applicable site-permitting laws. And the benefits are enormous: Incentives for geothermal energy alone will bring between 350 and 500 megawatts of clean and renewable geothermal energy online over the next three years, creating between 750 and 1,000 direct jobs and between 7,500 and 10,000 indirect jobs (Source: Geothermal Energy Association).

Incentives for solar energy will assist in creating 20,000 new jobs in the solar energy industry by 2010 (Source: Solar Energy Institute Association). Biomass provisions will put 1,000 people back to work in at least 20 biomass plants across the country. And incentives for wind energy will help create an estimated 5,285 new megawatts of clean and renewable power through 2007. Since each new megawatt of wind energy creates from 15 to 19 direct and indirect jobs, an estimated 100,000 new jobs will be created through 2007 (Source: American Wind Energy Association).

On Wednesday, the House planned to consider legislation to upgrade and increase America's oil refinery capacity; to safely explore, develop and produce oil and gas on the Arctic Coastal Plain of Alaska; and to resolve outstanding issues related to the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 to benefit America's coal miners.

NEW PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS RECOGNIZED FOR ACHIEVEMENTS IN AND OUT OF THE CLASSROOM NOMINATED FOR THE NEXT WENDY’S HIGH SCHOOL HEISMAN

New Plymouth High School’s Darin Lloyd and Ashley Warren have been nominated for the coveted Wendy’s High School Heisman Award. Awarded in conjunction with the collegiate Heisman recognition, this award honors the nation’s top high school seniors who best exemplify a supreme “citizen-scholar-athlete.”

These two promising leaders were nominated by Counselor Tambra T. Gaskins for their academic aptitude, athletic talent and tremendous display of commitment to their communities.

“We believe it’s important to recognize our young people not just for what they do in the classroom or on the field, but their contributions to communities,” Tambra Gaskins. “The Wendy’s High School Heisman is a great way to showcase their diverse achievements for all to see.”

Celebrating more than 10 years of commitment to youth and education, this program was created through a partnership between Wendy’s, National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) and the Heisman Memorial Trophy in 1994.

Ashley Warren and Darin Lloyd were nominated for the programs based on the following accomplishments:

Darin has a GPA of 3.7; he is very involved with his local church youth group, and his accomplishments in Cross Country and Track.

Ashley has a GPA of 3.85, she is and has been involved her church, tutor students in Math and English, and played varsity volleyball for two years.

“These students are truly in a league of their own,” says Archie Griffin, the only two-time winner of the prestigious Heisman Memorial Trophy and program spokesperson. “Each student nominated for the award has gone above and beyond expectations to help those in need, enhance their education and pursue their dreams.”

To track a student’s progress throughout the competition or to find out more about their contributions to communities,” Tambra Gaskins. “The Wendy’s High School Heisman is a great way to showcase their diverse achievements for all to see.”

The Wendy’s High School Heisman Program is comprised of five phases- Nomination, State Finalists, State Winners, National Finalists and National Winners. Entries are initially evaluated by ACT Assessment during the State finalist and State Winner phases and then passed on to a distinguished panel of judges.

Twelve National Finalists are invited for an all-expense paid trip to New York City on Dec. 10-12, to participate in the Heisman weekend festivities. ESPN2 will feature all 12 National finalists during the Wendy’s High School Heisman Awards Ceremony that will air on Dec. 12.

The national Association of Secondary School Principals- the preeminent organization and the national voice for middle level and high school principals, assistant principals and aspiring school leaders- provides its member the professional resources to serve as visionary leaders. NASSP promotes the intellectual growth, academic achievement, character development, leadership development, and physical well being of youth through its programs and student leadership services. NASSP sponsors the national Honor Society, the National Junior Honor Society, and the National Association of Student Councils.

Wendy’s Old Fashioned hamburgers was founded in 1969 by Dave Thomas and is the third largest quick-service hamburger chain in the world with nearly 6500 restaurants in North America and international markets.

The Kiwanis Club of New Plymouth met for a regular meeting on Monday June 21st. We did not have very many members in attendance, so we were grateful for each one who was there.

It was reported that at last week’s meeting Paul Kingsbury of Idahosports.com made an interesting presentation and Craig Meford from the High School volleyball team also was fun to listen to. Rod Tegethoff says we are ready to install the new playground equipment at the Kiwanis Park. The club set Saturday July 10th as the day to do the installation. All our friends will want to be on hand to assist.

This week the club discussed the upcoming County Fair. It takes quite a bit of preparation to get the Kiwanis booth staffed and stocked for the fair each year. This year the club is looking at upgrading some of the refrigeration and cooking appliances. Rod measured the access doors to the booth and Scott is researching the new appliances.

Next week we will have our regular meeting. On July 5th, the Senior Center is closed for the holiday (4th of July observance), so we will have no meeting on that day.

HENRY C. DURFEE – NEW PLYMOUTH

Henry Clement Durfee, 74, of New Plymouth Passed away Saturday, June 12, 2004 of natural causes at Holly Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Nampa, ID. Funeral services will be at 10:00 a.m., Monday, June 21, 2004 at the New Plymouth Ward building of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, New Plymouth with Bishop Lane Austin conducting. Interment will follow at Rosedale Memorial Gardens, Payette. A viewing will be from 4-7 p.m., Sunday, June 20, 2004 at the Shaffer-Jensen Memory Chapel, New Plymouth. Arrangements are under the direction of Shaffer-Jensen Memory Chapel, New Plymouth.

Henry was born April 19, 1930 in Lyman, Utah. He was the youngest child of Charles Durfee and Martha Eunice (Callahan) Durfee. Henry spent his childhood years growing up in Lyman, Utah. He moved to Nyssa, Oregon in February 1945 when he was 12. He graduated in 1949 from Nyssa High School.

Henry then served a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Eastern States Mission from 1950-1952. After completing his mission he was drafted into the army and served his country for two years from 1953-1955. Henry attended BYU where he met his future wife, Verna White. Henry and Verna were married November 19, 1957 in the Idaho Falls Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Henry and Verna settled in Sand Hollow, Idaho where they farmed and raised their five children Harold, Vernena, Martha, Diane, and Charles. In 1979, Henry and Verna sold their farm and moved into New Plymouth where Henry started his own business, Durfee Welding and Repair. In 1995 Henry and Verna moved into the Emmett Rehabilitation & Care Center where they received excellent care and treatment.

On October 19, 2002 Verna passed away due to complications of Multiple Sclerosis and Henry moved to the Holly Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Nampa where he could be closer to his children and grandchildren.

Henry was very talented in several different ways. He was an excellent musician, especially singing and playing guitar. At one point, Henry and his father formed a family band and performed at various community and church functions. He was probably best known for his talent and creativity in designing and building machinery. He was always looking for creative ways to invent tools that would make his jobs easier. He also used his talent to make things for his family which kept life exciting and fun. Some examples of his work are: a machine that would recap tires while they were still on the rim, an amusement swing set for his family, and, of course, go carts and bumper cars for the Chalet Amusement Park in Caldwell, as well as a homemade RV that he used to take his entire family on a three week vacation across the US. Henry had a belief that if you could imagine something you could build it. Henry will always be remembered for his strong faith in Jesus Christ and his patience, optimism and sense of humor. Henry was a devout member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Henry is survived by his children Harold Henry Durfee of Caldwell, Vernena Durfee of Parma, Martha Rebecca Durfee Higley of Fruitland, Diane Marie Durfee Banner of Nampa, and Charles Dennis Durfee of Eagle; brother, Walter Irvin Durfee of Nyssa, OR; sisters, Shirley Fawn Durfee Jackson of Richfield, UT and Louise Eunice Durfee Porter of South Jordan, UT; 23 grandchildren; and numerous nieces and nephews. Henry was preceded in death by the love of his life, Verna White Durfee; his father, Charles Durfee; his mother, Martha Eunice Callahan Durfee; two brothers, Charles Deloss Durfee and Edward Erastus Durfee; and a sister, Rachel Elizabeth Durfee Ostberg.

Crane Hunt Applications
Due July 15
Hunters may begin applying for sandhill crane hunts June 15.
Five hunts are available this year. All hunts are located in southeast Idaho. Hunts are set for all of Brea Lake County, part of Caribou County, and all of Teton and Fremont Counties.

The application period runs through July 15. Applications can be made at any license vendor, Fish and Game office, over the telephone at 1-800-554-8685, or on the Fish and Game Internet web site at http://fishandgame.idaho.gov. Applications can be mailed to Crane Hunt, IDFG, P.O. Box 25, Boise, ID 83707.

All applicants will pay $6.50 (nonrefundable) for the application fee. Successful applicants then pay $6.50 for the controlled hunt permit and $1.50 for a tag. A migratory bird validation is also required on the license at a cost of $1.50.

Permits left over after the drawing will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis beginning August 30.

Further information is available on the Fish and Game web site and in a printed brochure available at vendors and Fish and Game offices.

Sandhill cranes are hunted in Idaho as an attempt to limit depredation to crops in eastern Idaho counties. Cranes are fully protected outside the three hunt areas, all in southeast Idaho.

Poached Sturgeon Bigger, Older
A sturgeon head recently found dumped along Interstate 84 east of Mountain Home came from a fish that may have been as long as eight feet, weighed up to 200 pounds and was between 40 and 60 years old.

The head belonged to the second large sturgeon illegally taken from the Snake River in recent weeks. In May, witnesses reported seeing two men catch a nine-foot sturgeon illegally taken from the Snake River in recent weeks. Further information is available on the Fish and Game web site and in a printed brochure available at vendors and Fish and Game offices.

Satellite Licensing Launched
The Idaho Department of Fish and Game and GTECH Corporation on June 8 officially launched the new computerized hunting and fishing license sales system developed by GTECH. The system had been in test mode since April 1, 2004.

Called the Idaho Wildlife Information and License Data System (IWILDS), it allows hunters and anglers from around the world to purchase Idaho hunting and fishing licenses through multiple sales channels. The state-of-the-art, Internet-based, point-of-sale licensing system uses satellite communications and customized, web-enabled terminals to connect to a central system where transactions are processed through more than 3,000 fish and game regulations into a database, which holds 1.5 million records of hunters and anglers. IWILDS provides for the sale of licenses at more than 450 license vendors in Idaho and neighboring states, over the Internet via a customized IDFG website, and through a new 1-800 telephone service. Because of the satellite communications, IDFG can now set up a license sales booth at outfitter events, rodeos, fairs, or any other location, as the technology can be deployed in hours.

Since the system started on April 1, it has processed more than 324,000 licenses, permits and applications and has had an upturn of more than 99 percent, despite isolated short-term issues which were quickly and successfully resolved.

GTECH, which also operates the computerized system that has been in Idaho since 1989 and has provided the licensing system to sell Idaho hunting and fishing licenses since the mid 1990s. GTECH has sold licenses for various states over the years, and IWILDS is the most advanced and comprehensive system it has ever developed. "It is the flagship system of a new generation of license sales," said Steve Barton, special assistant to the director of Fish and Game.

Young Peregrines Venture from Downtown Nest
Two peregrine falcon fledglings have taken to the skies over downtown Boise just days after one of the birds was spotted stranded on a downtown park bench.

"They are doing fine, flying around and they should be all right as long as they don't do anything stupid," said Bruce Haak, southwestern regional nongame biologist for Idaho Fish and Game.

Haak rescued the stranded falcon on Sunday after someone spotted it on the ground and phoned Fish and Game. Two days later he returned it to its nest high atop the One Capital Center.

The young peregrines are now flying back and forth from their nest to the Key Bank Building, a couple of blocks away. While their lessons in flight seem to be going better, people are still urged to look out for the young birds and call Fish and Game immediately if they see one on the ground.

Ask Fish and Game
Q. I thought I would be notified by now on my controlled elk hunt. What gives?
A. Too many tens may be the cause of confusion. Hunters who applied for moose, mountain goat and bighorn were notified by June 10. The results of elk, deer, antelope and fall black bear controlled hunt draws will be known by July 10.

Colorado Man Wins Fish and Game's First Ever Superslam
Burt Dole of Mesa, Colorado will spend a lot of time in Idaho later this year and contribute greatly to the state's economy. As the winner of Idaho Fish and Game's first Superslam Pak, he now holds tags for deer, elk, antelope and moose which are valid for any open hunt for each species in the 2004 hunting season.

Participation by people like Burt and other sportsmen, both resident and non-resident will help open up nearly a half million acres of land for hunters and anglers to enjoy.

"If I were him I would be absolutely ecstatic," Special Assistant to the Director Steve Barton said. "To have his name drawn out of 13 pools of applicants, (lottery tickets) what a deal!"

Fish and Game sold more than 1,800 chances for the Superslam draw. Nearly 25,000 hunters also bought Supertag chances - those winners names were also announced.

Also, the year's first drawing raised more than $108,000 for Fish and Game's Access Yes! program which compensates willing landowners who provide access to private land or allow hunters and anglers to cross their land to get to public property. "I think it was fantastic to have the number of people involved," Barton said. "I think it is going to be something great for sportsmen and there are more landowners coming forward as we speak so as hunting season opens up, there will be even more lands opened up."

Fish and Game will hold another Super tag and Superslam lottery drawing on August 15. Hunters can apply at any license vendor, by phone, mail or online through July 30, 2004.

New Water to Open for Salmon June 21

Beginning June 21, fishing for hatchery chinook salmon will be allowed on the Salmon River from Hammer Creek upstream to a posted line at the uppermost Vinegar Creek boat ramp, adding 25 miles to the existing fishery. All other limits and rules that apply to the current chinook salmon fishery on the mainstem Salmon river will still apply, so limits remain at three per day, nine in possession and 20 for the season, statewide. Only adipose fin-clipped chinook salmon may be harvested and barbless hooks are required. Hours will remain the same as the current fishery at 1/2 hour before sunrise until 1 hour after sunset.

Anglers can review all current rules in the Idaho 2004 spring chinook Salmon Seasons and Rules brochure, available at local vendors and department offices. There also will be regulation fliers available explaining the new boundary and fishery dates for the mainstem Salmon River. Rule brochures for the fishery in the South Fork of the Salmon River are also available at local vendors.

The fishery will provide additional opportunity for anglers to fish for unlisted hatchery summer chinook that are bound for the upper South Fork of the Salmon River. Anglers will also have this opportunity in the South Fork Salmon River fishery, which also opens June 21.

The entire mainstem Salmon River will close to all chinook salmon fishing on July 5 or prior if necessary for biological reasons, such as hitting limits of listed chinook passing through the fishery area. Because of the presence of ESA-listed chinook salmon during the fishery, agreement from National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Fisheries was necessary to move forward with implementing the fishery, which was adopted by the Fish and Game Commission in late May.

Anadromous Fishery Manager Sharon Kiefer said "NOAA Fisheries has informed the department that they have no objection to this fishery proceeding. The department has a federal permit for incidental take of listed chinook, which is why we are able to move ahead to implement this new opportunity. "No one has fished for chinook salmon in this new section for a long time. I think we will learn a lot about timing and fish movement, which will help us better meet future fishery and conservation needs," Kiefer said. Regulations are also available via the department's website at <http://fishandgame.idaho.gov>. Catch information from chinook fisheries around the state is posted weekly.

Mayor's Message

Expanding our City

A special thanks to the “Wizard of Oz” for his/her insight and suggestions for avoiding the arsenic issue within the city [refers to a letter the Mayor received this week]. We are looking at those alternatives and in fact found water to the east of town that tests free and clear, but we still have the issues of funding all the pipes out there. By the time the EPA and the engineers get involved it costs about $45 per foot to lay the sewer line plus another $25 per foot to add water to that. That is a little more than $350,000 per mile to put in the lines. But I like the ideas and the thoughts!

Expanding our city and improving our tax base [in other words, reducing our individual taxes] is another priority we need to be looking at. The City has a very large impact area surrounding it and wants to look at growing on all sides. The easiest sides to grow on currently are the North and West. The North is easier because it is closest to our sewer treatment facility and the West because that is where we currently have the highest density of houses on city borders. The northern side is also the least expensive to develop as most of the utilities already run through it. But growth to the South and the East also need to occur as that is where the County would like us to grow. We will no doubt have hearings to discuss these issues, but I would like you as citizens to consider and provide feedback on how you would like to see New Plymouth have organized orderly growth.

To improve our tax base we want to find industrial and light industrial businesses that we can attract to our city that blend into our surroundings and bring value to the local citizens. I personally favor businesses that I would be proud to say are in our town. We have the opportunity to attract several of these businesses, but we don’t have an industrial park where they set up of sufficient size. The JANO park is set up for smaller light industrial businesses but many of food processors need 10 acres or more and to be close to their suppliers as well as fresh water and sewer drain capabilities. As a city, we want to find a site where we can encourage businesses to set up.

Thank you for all your help in my job as Mayor. Many of you have encouraged me to continue to think outside the box and that encouragement is sorely needed. Every two steps forward seems to lead to one step back. We have re-established contact with New Plymouth, New Zealand (which WAS our sister city) and are working to regain those ties and see if we can’t work together to the betterment of both communities. More on that next week.

Sturgeon Poaching Reward Doubled

The poaching of two mature sturgeon in recent weeks along the Snake River has raised the ire of The Western Whitewater Association. "We were outraged," Member Tim Palmer said. "We as members have enjoyed that resource, caught these fish, released these fish for generations...and it is a travesty."

The group is channeling its outrage into action, - contributing $1000 - $500 for each fish - to Idaho Fish and Game's reward fund meaning $2000 is now available for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible.

Besides contributing with their wallets, the association's members will also be on the lookout for suspicious activity. "We have 600 members of our group that are out there and we are aware...and we are going to be very diligent in paying attention to what is going on now," Member Ron Garrett said.

A sturgeon head believed to have come from a fish between 40 and 60 years old was found earlier this month dumped just off Interstate 84 east of Mountain Home. Last month, witnesses reported seeing two men catch a nine-foot long sturgeon below Swan Falls Dam, load it into an older Ford pickup and drive off with it.

Fish and Game officials do not know if the incidents are connected but they are concerned about possible motives. "Some people are poaching for meat, some people are poaching for their ego," Resident Fisheries Coordinator Fred Partridge said. "But there's additional value in caviar and there's some concern there could be some black market harvesting of sturgeon, looking for caviar." Anyone with information is urged to call the poaching hotline at 1-800-632-5999.

Salmon Fishing In Parts Of The Clearwater River Basin To Close June 20

Salmon fishing on the mainstem Clearwater River, Middle Fork Clearwater River and North Fork Clearwater River will close at the end of fishing hours on Sunday, June 20. Fishery managers for the Idaho Department of Fish and Game estimate that as of June 17, anglers have harvested about 84 percent of the state's harvest share of surplus adult hatchery salmon returning to the Clearwater River drainage. By June 20, it is estimated that more than 90 percent will have been harvested.

To ensure sufficient opportunity in tributary fisheries, the portion of the state's harvest share remaining after June 20 will be used to continue existing fisheries in the South Fork Clearwater and Lochsa rivers that are now just starting to provide success.

I Am A Christian

When I say ... "I am a Christian"
I'm not shouting "I'm clean livin'"
I'm whispering "I was lost",
Now I'm found and forgiven.
When I say ... "I am a Christian"
I don't speak of this with pride.
I'm confessing that I stumble
and need God's good grace, someone who received God's good grace,
I'm just a simple sinner
I'm not holier than thou,
When I say ... "I am a Christian"
I'm not claiming to be perfect,
I'm admitting I have failed in my share of heartaches
but, God believes I am worth it.
My flaws are far too visible and need God to clean my mess.
I'm confessing that I stumble
I don't speak of this with pride.
When I say ... "I am a Christian"
and need HIS strength to carry on.
I'm whispering "I was lost",
I'm not shouting "I'm clean livin'"

LETTERS

Thanks for Paper
We have just received our 1st copy of the NPN’s, a gift from our daughter Susan Howe, pastor of the Congregational Church in New Plymouth. We really enjoy reading your paper. We have visited NP many times, have 2 granddaughters in NP elementary school, have enjoyed many a fine meal at the Senior Center and met and treasure many of the citizens of NP. So we really do enjoy reading about the happenings in NP. Keep up the good work!! New Plymouth deserves a good paper. It is a great place!!

Outraged
I am responding to the letter in the paper for last couple of weeks about the driving lessons. It has come to my attention that there is a drug house in New Plymouth. One of the mothers living in this home has 3 small children. She recently gave birth to her fourth child, which was a drug addicted baby girl. Child protection Services took the baby at birth and placed her in foster home. However, the mother was never charged with injury to a child, or any other crime. She was sent home from the hospital to take care of her other three children. Those three children are still in this drug infested home. Neighbors observe drug deals on a regular basis and these are reported to the police, but nothing is done!! I have also been made aware of a father that has been charged with truancy because his children missed school when they were sick. I thought when my children where sick I was Supposed to keep them home to keep from infecting the whole school. But from now on I am going to send my child to school sick…. oh, wait a minute, if I do that I might get charged with endangering the children at school…. So if I keep them home, I get charged with truancy if I send them child endangerment??? What is this world coming to???
I feel this case is just an absurd as the driving lesson case. Both of these cases are frivolous and a waste of the taxpayers money. Why are the Payette County Prosecutors pursuing frivolous cases and leaving criminals, such as the first case that I mentioned to remain free and continue to endanger her 3 innocent children? I feel that we as the taxpayers who pay their salaries, need to help them get their priorities straightened out and let them know that we want the Real Criminals off our street and the Real Endangered Children Protected!!
